The Best iTunes Alternatives for Mac OS by How to Geek

<http://www.howtogeek.com/280304/the-best-itunes-alternatives-for-macos/>

iTunes is hot mess. Bloated and ponderous, iTunes continues Apple's ongoing trend of having lost its design mojo. But fear not: there are some pretty good iTunes alternatives for macOS Sierra.

Our requirements for replacing iTunes are fairly simple: a replacement needs to be easy to use and painlessly play our music, and it should include a media library for organizing everything. The applications we're going to discuss today all meet these basic requirements—some do so minimally while others are packed with more features. All however, let you put your music first. Here then are ten standout replacements for Apple's media behemoth.

Here's the First Dual Lens Attachment for Your iPhone 7 Plus by Helena Young

<http://hypebeast.com/2016/12/kamerar-zoom-iphone-7-plus-attachment/>

Built to accommodate the first dual-lens camera on an Apple device, this new phone case and lens system for the iPhone 7 Plus is a world's first. Previous iterations of the iPhones have had these types of attachments, but they were designed for a single lens. This pack comes with two lens pairs — a fisheye/telephoto pair and a macro zoom lens. Both are mounted to the phone using a special hard case boasting a sliding apparatus to attach the lenses. Check out the video below to learn more about the attachment and purchase one for your iPhone 7 Plus at Kamerar for $45 USD here.

HomeKit – with 'Home' for home automation and 'kit' for software developer kit – basically helps connect smart accessories and their apps and allows them to communicate more easily. HomeKit lets users connect and manage the accessories in the home from a variety of manufacturers ranging from controlling lighting to cycles on the washing machine.

Features

- Smart accessories for home automation
- Home App with iOS 10 streamlines HomeKit accessories
- Apple's HomeKit secure due to end-to-end encryption
- More than 100 HomeKit compatible products available in 2016
- Apple working with U.S. home manufacturers to have HomeKit accessories built into homes before they go to market

Why Smart Phones are driving Everyone Insane by Travis Bradberry of the Huffington Post

There's nothing worse than whipping out your smartphone during a meeting, and few things will turn someone off to you quite like a mid-conversation text message or even a quick glance at your phone.

Using your phone at inappropriate times annoys your boss and colleagues according to research from USC's Marshall School of Business, and if you work with women and people over forty they're even more perturbed by it than everyone else.

The researchers conducted a nationwide survey of 554 full-time working professionals earning above $30K and working in companies with at least 50 employees. They asked a variety of questions about smartphone use during meetings and found:

- 86% think it's inappropriate to answer phone calls during meetings

84% think it's inappropriate to write texts or emails during meetings

66% think it's inappropriate to write texts or emails even during lunches offsite

The more money people make the less they approve of smartphone use.
